Travertine Walnut Honed and Filled is light walnut and warm brown in color. Walnut Travertine is also called as Classic Travertine is a dense composite with little porosity allowing the user to enjoy little to no fillings on the travertine tile. Travertine walnut honed and filled is suitable for both indoor and outdoor flooring projects as well as walling especially for wet rooms. This product is also known as Classic Mocha travertine or Muscat travertine and nowadays getting very popular in color for contemporary designs. Some agents market this stone as light walnut travertine, classic travertine, honey travertine or cappuccino travertine. For users looking for cobblestone and flagstone, walnut travertine pavers would be a very good option. Please give us a call to discuss your stone tile flooring and walling projects. We can suggest the best stone tiles to fit to your bathroom, kitchen, hall, living room, conservatory, garden or patio for modern building decorations or period building renovations. We can arrange delivery of your orders from our warehouse in Rainham Essex (next to London) to anywhere in England, Wales and Scotland as well as continental Europe. We hear many people unknowingly buying 2nd 3rd quality travertines for the price of 1st quality travertine from ebay or some unknown sources. Please be aware that these qualities are for commercial use and will usually not fit to your requirements. The name "Classic Travertine" is used in the market usually for low quality selections or a collection of mixed quality leftovers.
